

Happy New Year.

As our Astro fans know the solar year starts on the 4th of February and the fire 🐎 horse, is arriving, that solid worker, reliable, everyone trusts the horse.

But this is double 🐎 🐎 Fire

There's already yin fire 🐎 in the horse and now yang fire 🐎 above in the stem making double fire. 🐎 Yin & Yang – a peaceful couple or just double trouble? It does as always depend on your own 5 elements. See our astrology programme <https://www.mantakchialondon.co.uk/astrology> Last year was Wood Snake which also has Yang fire 🐎 in it and was fuelled up by the Wood in the Stem above. In fact the Fire effects started last year and the world felt it.

You'll be looking forward to the 17th of February celebrations, which is the start of the Lunar New Year - the moon cycle- that's when the Chinese crackers go off and you do all your blessings, resolutions and have a party.

Time for our feng shui tips?

We usually do that for the 4th February; this year you'll be putting the Wou lou (or ULU the double gourd) in the North West direction and the salt water in the South direction of your living or work space. (In a large glass vase or jar, fill 1/3rd rock or table salt and top the jar up with tap water to 5 cms from the top. Place on a ceramic plate in case it bubbles over) This could help against the destructive side of the fire energy.

Last but not least: our 2026 Taoist Courses.

Master Chia is ending his European visits, so be sure to catch him in London 27 September – 1st October 2026 for his bilingual class, he will be accompanied by his French translator.
